

Weather Briefing

JANUARY 22, 2013

A Wind Chill Advisory remains in effect through 1 pm Tuesday afternoon.

For questions and additional information:

NWS Detroit/Pontiac, MI

<http://www.weather.gov/dtx>

Email: w-dtx.webmaster@noaa.gov

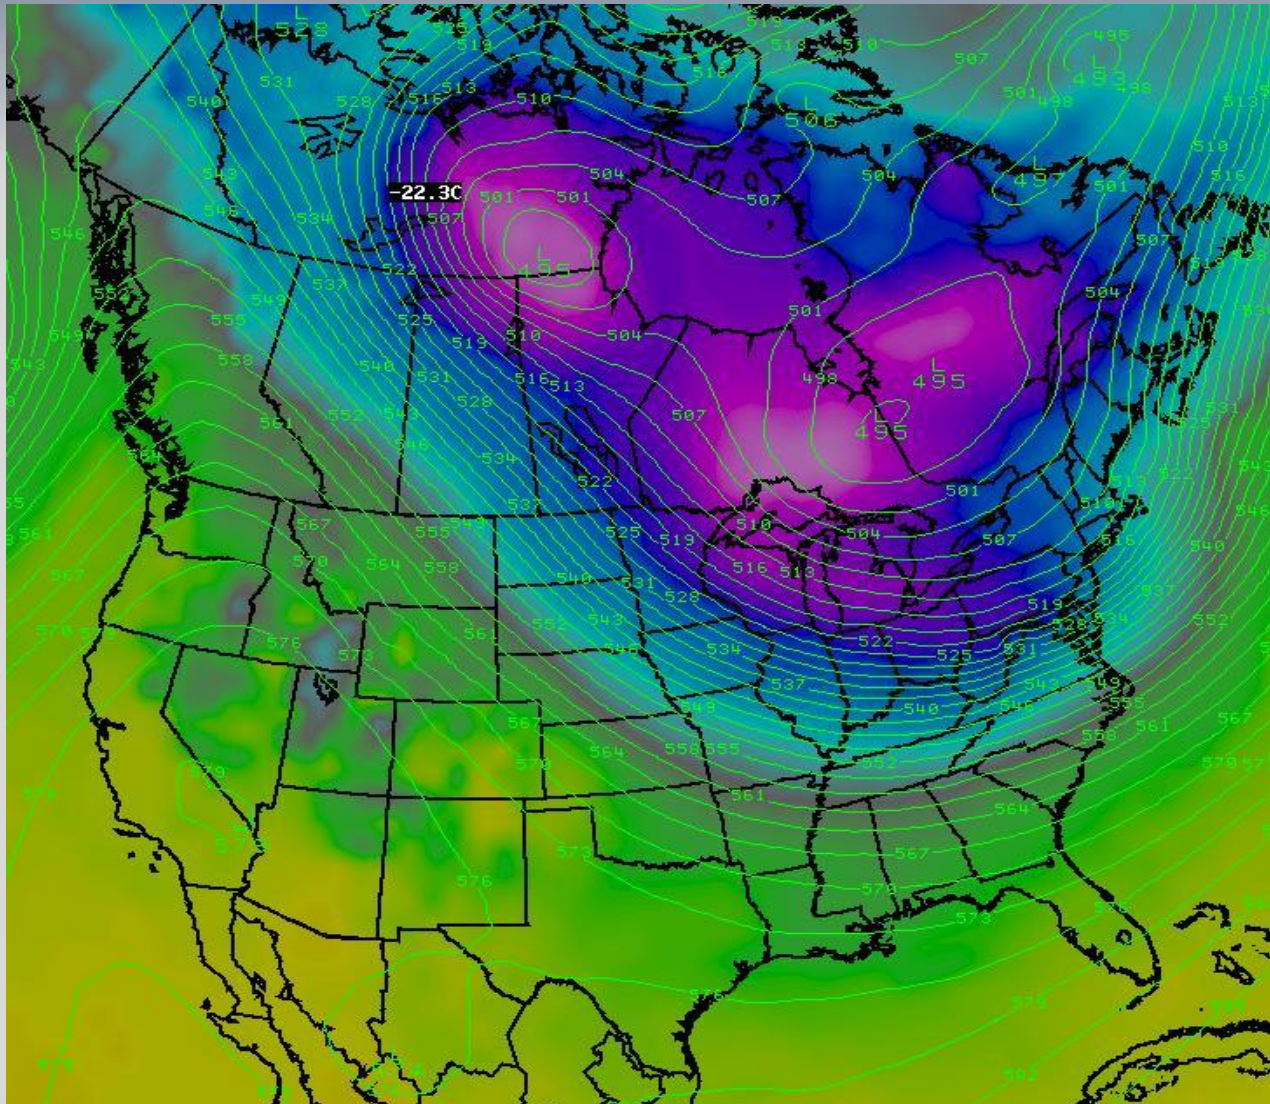

Find us on
Facebook

Decision Support Briefing

Forecast Upper Air

Sprawling Arctic High Pressure will extend south into much of the United States east of the Rocky Mountains through Thursday. Pictured to the left are forecasted 850mb temperatures (-25C) and 500mb heights (513 dm). Both values are near record low for upper air at DTX

Decision Support Briefing

Highlights

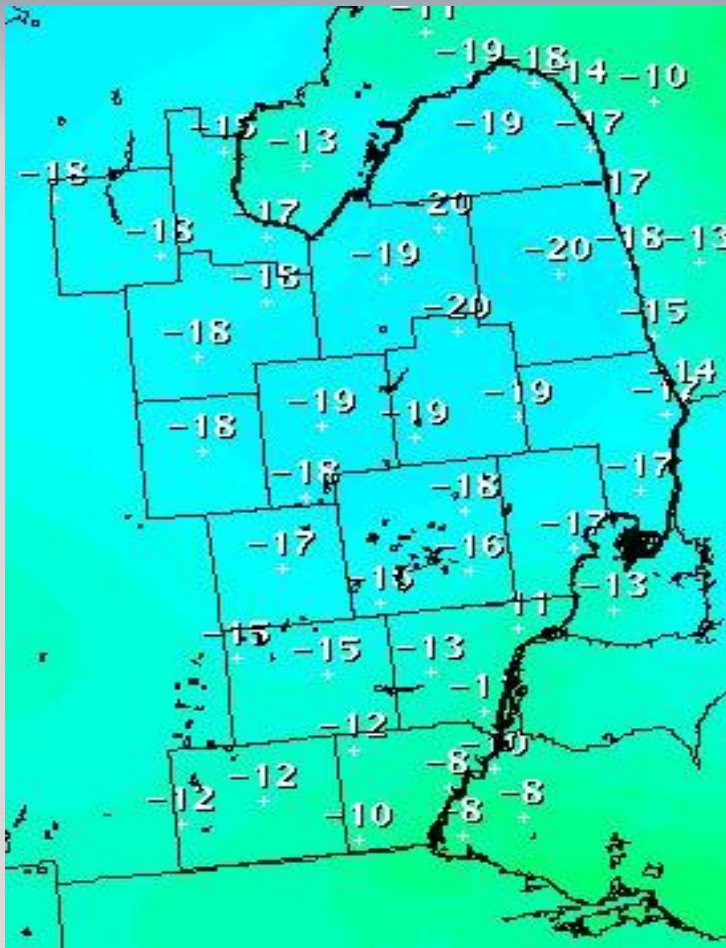

What	Where	Timing	Impacts
Extreme Cold Highs near 10 and Lows near Zero.	All of Southeast Michigan	Today and Tonight	Some residents without power from Saturday Night's strong winds will be without heat during much of this cold spell
Wind Chill Values (-15 to -22F)	All of Southeast Michigan	This Morning through Wednesday	Outdoor activities should be avoided when wind chills fall to dangerous levels such as -15F
Locally 1"+ of Snow	Northern tip of the Thumb	Today	Slick roads possible

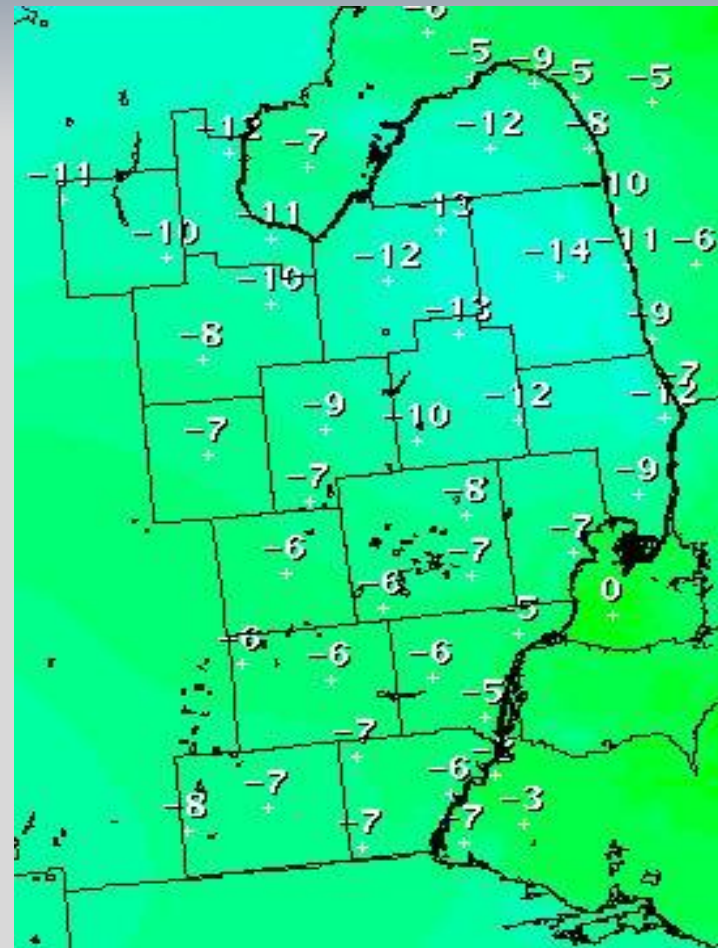

Wind Chill Readings

Early Tuesday Morning

Early Wednesday Morning

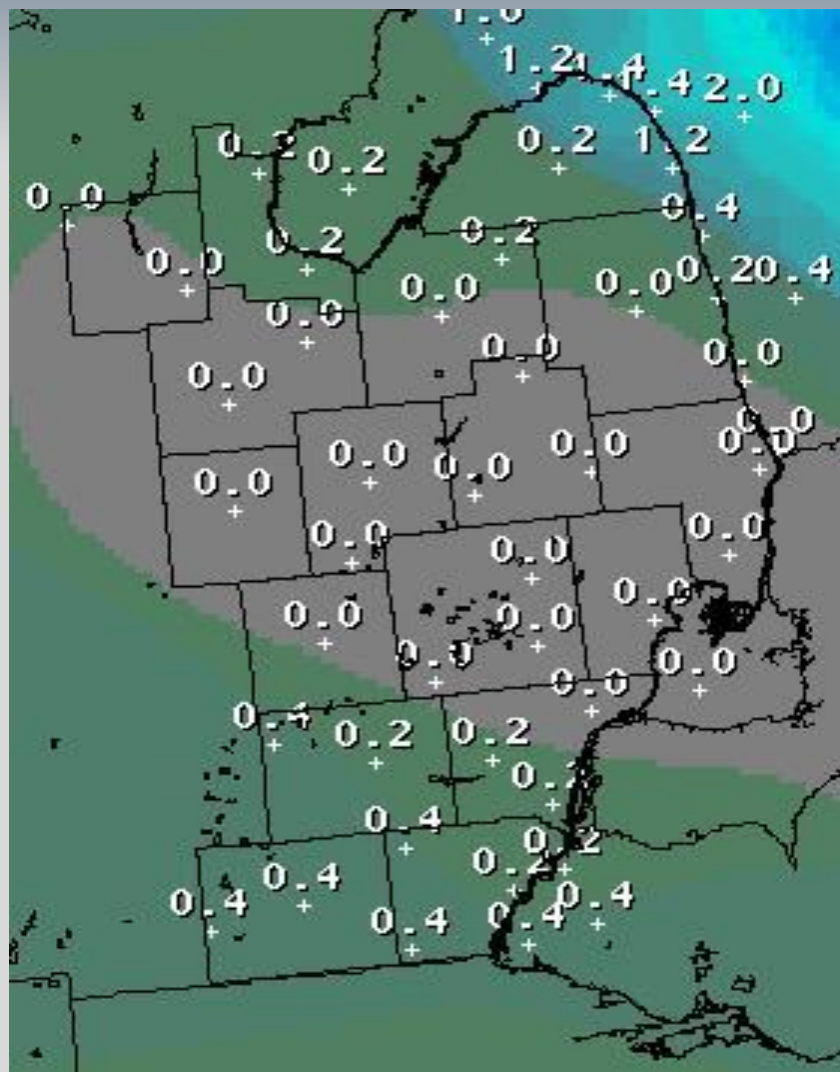

Wind Chill Indices will range between -10 to -20 into Wednesday

Decision Support Briefing

Snow Amounts

Today

Lake Effect Snow Bands will bring periodic snow showers to parts of the region into Thursday.

For today, snow showers will be most concentrated over the northern Thumb where around one inch of new snow will be possible.

A dusting of new snow will also be possible generally south of Interstate 94.

Decision Support Briefing Resources

See full forecast details at our homepage listed below

<http://www.weather.gov/detroit>

National Weather Service DETROIT/PONTIAC Home Page

<http://www.weather.gov/detroit/svr.php>

National Weather Service DETROIT/PONTIAC Local Hazards Page

Weather Briefing

JANUARY 22, 2013

For questions and additional information:

NWS Detroit/Pontiac, MI

<http://www.weather.gov/dtx>

Email: w-dtx.webmaster@noaa.gov

Find us on
Facebook

